The declaration relieves the situation, which even the British had admitted was critical.

In a message to Kemai Pasha at Smyrna, General Harington urged an early meeting of the British and Kemalists generals at Madania or Ismid as the most effective way of reaching an amicable understanding in the present difficult situation created by the Kemalist advance in the Dardanelles.

The message, which was most contract the vessel saided at noon today. President is true to the presence of the Averoff in Constantinople impaired the prospects of peace. A street demonstration by prominent citizens acclaimed Venizelos and a republic. There was some rioting and former Minister of Agriculture Sideris was wounded.

Corriously enough it was the former American battleship Idaho, now the Greek Lemons, that started the revolution. In 1913 Greece bought the Idaho and Mississippi, the Idaho was named Lemnos, after the naval victory against the Turks in 1912 off the island of Lemnos. Other commodities not affected by the embargo are coal, coke, charcoal and petroleum, and its products when shipped in tanks, lubricating oils, medicines and drugs, food containers, coal mining supplies, newsprint paper, nursery stock, seeds, fertilizer, chlorine for flour mills and filtration plants.

Officials of the road said the embargo was necessary as a means of breaking up congention of freight cars on the system, directly, resulting from the shop-up congestion of freight cars on the system, directly, resulting from the shorcrafts strike, the resumption of coal mining large crop consignments and heavy shipping of freight since the recent activity in industrial lines.

Acceptance of freight on normal terms is expected to be resumed by Sunday midnight, tentatively set as the date when the embargo will be lifted.
